Preview In the past, the admin section of a web application tended to be built solely for functionality, with not much, if at all, consideration for its design. Fortunately, things are changing. Strong functionality and beautiful design, especially in recent years, have merged beautifully. And with the massive increase in popularity of the Bootstrap framework, creating a beautiful and functional admin panel has never been easier. Why did you choose to use Bootstrap? With Bothtrap, you know exactly what you're getting. It is relatively easy to customize the mobile-first frame that includes ready-made design designs and comes packed with a huge library of components and widgets. And perhaps most importantly, your Bootstrap build will look consistent across all screen resolutions and platforms. So it makes sense to build the dashboard, or the admin panel of your web application with something you know works well. All the free management themes and Dashboard Bootstrap below have been pre-built to be used as a complete solution, so you can quickly create the front-end dashboard of your web application. In addition to all of Bootstrap's easy-to-use widgets collections, they all include many additional add-ons, add-ons, and features (add-ons for charts & charts, calendars, file managers, and more). Everything you'll ever need to build dashboards. And on top of all these features, these themes are all gorgeous as well.
